FACTS

The Main Line Youth Lacrosse Camp offers an excellent opportunity for each player to learn and refine the necessary skills of Lacrosse to enhance every player's ability.

George Wattles has been directing lacrosse camps since 1980. Many camp graduates have gone on to successful high school and college careers. Camp graduates include:

Kyle Barrie: Haverford; Johns Hopkins

Todd Cochran: Conestoga, Georgetown

John Christmas: Lower Merion; Univ. of VA

Margaux Viola: The Episcopal Academy, Cornell

Nikki Lieb: Radnor, Virginia

Lydia Williams: The Episcopal Academy, Harvard

Brook Owens: The Episcopal Academy; Princeton

Matt McMonagle: The Episcopal Academy; Cornell

Individualized instruction will be given in the areas of throwing, catching, cradling, scooping, dodging and checking. Students are taught by established coaches and players. Skills will also be taught according to position. Game strategies will be covered. The camp offers excellent opportunity for the new player as well as the player with experience. This camp places a great emphasis on sportsmanship. All campers are encouraged to act in a proper fashion to enhance a positive experience for all involved.
